

Research in ...

Male gametes production and quality

S. Hamamah, R. Mieuxset
editors

LES EDITIONS
INSERM

Contents

|                                                                                                                                                       |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Contributors .....                                                                                                                             | V   |
| Preface E. Nieschlag (Germany) .....                                                                                                           | XI  |
| Acknowledgements .....                                                                                                                         | XII |
| PART I - SPERMATOGENESIS REGULATION                                                                                                        |     |
| 1. Growth factors in the testis development and function - C. Mauduit,M. Benahmed (France, INSERM U 407) .....                             | 3   |
| Testicular development .....                                                                                                                          | 3   |
| Growth factors in the male gonad .....                                                                                                                | 4   |
| Conclusions .....                                                                                                                                     | 25  |
| 2. Paracrine and autocrine regulations of spermatogenesis - A. Dupaix, C. Pineau,C. Piquet-Pellorce, B. Jégou (France, INSERM U 435) ..... | 47  |
| The Sertoli cell-germ cell communication system .....                                                                                                 | 47  |
| The peritubular cell-seminiferous epithelium communication system .....                                                                               | 53  |
| The Sertoli cell-Leydig cell communication system .....                                                                                               | 54  |
| Conclusions .....                                                                                                                                     | 54  |
| 3. Testis thermoregulation - B.P. Setchell, R. Mieuxset (Australia, France) .....                                                              | 65  |
| Temperature of the testis .....                                                                                                                       | 65  |
| Mechanism of testicular cooling .....                                                                                                                 | 68  |
| Effect of temperature on testicular blood flow .....                                                                                                  | 69  |
| Effects of single, repeated or continuous exposure of the testes to elevatedtemperatures .....                                                    | 69  |
| Embryo development and survival .....                                                                                                                 | 72  |
| Conclusions .....                                                                                                                                     | 73  |
| 4. Hormonal modulation of the recovery of spermatogenesis following cytotoxicinsult - M.L. Meistrich (USA) .....                          | 83  |
| Hormone regulation and suppression of spermatogenesis .....                                                                                           | 84  |
| Modulation of spermatogenic recovery from cytotoxic agents by hormonalpretreatment .....                                                          | 86  |
| Modulation of spermatogenic recovery from cytotoxic agents by hormonal post-treatment .....                                                       | 90  |
| Conclusion .....                                                                                                                                      | 90  |

|                                                                                                                                                                               |           |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| 5. Genetic lesions in male gametes and cytotoxic treatments. Prevention by hormonal inhibition of spermatogenesis - S. Es-Slami, D. Marmor, J.C. Soufir (France) ..... | 97 |
| Growth of the population concerned by the risk of genetic lesions to male gametes .....                                                                                       | 97        |
| Genetic lesions : data for humans and animals .....                                                                                                                           | 98        |
| Prevention of genetic lesions .....                                                                                                                                           | 100       |
| Conclusion .....                                                                                                                                                              | 104       |

PART II - DECLINE OF SPERMATOGENESIS : FROM FACT TO MYTH

|                                                                                                                                                                                    |            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 6. Daily sperm production and daily sperm output in men - D. Le Lannou, J.F. Griveau (France) .....                                                                         | 111 |
| Daily sperm production (DSP) .....                                                                                                                                                 | 112        |
| Daily sperm output (DSO) .....                                                                                                                                                     | 113        |
| Clinical applications .....                                                                                                                                                        | 115        |
| Conclusion .....                                                                                                                                                                   | 116        |
| 7. Changes in semen quality : fact or fiction ? The French experience - J. Auger, P. Jouannet (France) .....                                                                | 121 |
| Secular trends of semen quality in Paris area .....                                                                                                                                | 122        |
| Regional differences of semen quality in France .....                                                                                                                              | 126        |
| Discussion / Conclusions .....                                                                                                                                                     | 128        |
| 8. Male reproductive toxicology - a review with special consideration of hazards to men - I.D. Morris, K.P. Hoyes, M.F. Taylor, I. Woolveridge (UK) .....                   | 135 |
| The germ cell .....                                                                                                                                                                | 136        |
| The Sertoli cell .....                                                                                                                                                             | 138        |
| The Leydig cell .....                                                                                                                                                              | 140        |
| Conclusion .....                                                                                                                                                                   | 143        |
| 9. Effects of chemicals/drugs on spermatogenesis - J.A. Thomas (USA) .....                                                                                                  | 151 |
| Sperm quality and measurement .....                                                                                                                                                | 152        |
| Factors affecting spermatogenesis .....                                                                                                                                            | 153        |
| Chemicals / Drugs / Hormones - Male Infertility .....                                                                                                                              | 155        |
| 10. Pesticides and male fertility : current knowledge and epidemiological approach - L. Multigner, P. Thonneau, B. Ducot, A. Clavert, A. Spira (France, INSERM U 292) ..... | 159 |
| Impact of pesticides on the environment .....                                                                                                                                      | 159        |
| Impact of pesticides on reproduction .....                                                                                                                                         | 160        |
| Impact of pesticides on human fertility .....                                                                                                                                      | 161        |
| Epidemiological evaluation of human reproduction .....                                                                                                                             | 162        |
| Conclusions .....                                                                                                                                                                  | 163        |

PART III - SPERM QUALITY AND FERTILIZATION : PLASMIC MEMBRANE IMPORTANCE

|                                                                                                                                                                                                      |            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 11. Sperm membrane receptors and fertilization : an outside-inside crosstalk - J. Tesarik, C. Mendoza (Spain) . . . . .                                                                       | 169 |
| Principal receptor-controlled events involved in sperm preparation for fertilization . . . . .                                                                                                       | 169        |
| Evidence for the presence of membrane receptors on spermatozoa and their role in fertilization . . . . .                                                                                             | 171        |
| Crosstalk between membrane receptors and intracellular signalling pathways . . . . .                                                                                                                 | 173        |
| Feedback reactions from intracellular signalling pathways to plasma membrane receptors . . . . .                                                                                                     | 179        |
| Conclusions . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                | 180        |
| 12. Lipid composition of sperm plasma membrane : alteration during the fertilization process - S. Hamamah, G. Grizard, B.M. Gadella, C. Barthélémy, D. Royère (France, Netherlands) . . . . . | 187 |
| Lipids composition and levels in human sperm . . . . .                                                                                                                                               | 188        |
| Relationship between lipids from sperm cells and seminal plasma . . . . .                                                                                                                            | 192        |
| Alterations of sperm membrane lipid during steps prior to fertilization . . . . .                                                                                                                    | 192        |
| Relationship between the lipid composition of sperm cells and their resistance to freezing-thawing processes . . . . .                                                                               | 194        |
| Relationship between blood lipids and sperm lipids . . . . .                                                                                                                                         | 195        |
| Conclusions . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                | 195        |
| 13. Reactive oxygen species and sperm membranes - E. de Lamirande, C. Gagnon, P. Leclerc (Canada) . . . . .                                                                                   | 203 |
| ROS origin, targets, scavenging, models . . . . .                                                                                                                                                    | 203        |
| Lipid peroxidation . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                         | 204        |
| Signal transduction mechanisms . . . . .                                                                                                                                                             | 207        |
| Conclusions . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                | 209        |
| 14. Sperm-zona interactions : molecular basis - H. Lucas, F. Boué, P. Jouannet, P. Barrière (France) . . . . .                                                                                | 213 |
| Sperm capacitation . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                         | 213        |
| Sperm acrosome reaction . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                    | 214        |
| Egg sperm binding proteins : the zona pellucida . . . . .                                                                                                                                            | 217        |
| Sperm egg-binding proteins : the spermatozoa . . . . .                                                                                                                                               | 219        |
| Oligosaccharides and gamete interaction . . . . .                                                                                                                                                    | 222        |
| Functional bioassays of human sperm-zona pellucida interactions . . . . .                                                                                                                            | 225        |
| Conclusion . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                 | 225        |
| 15. Sperm quality and conceptus - J. Lansac (France) . . . . .                                                                                                                                | 237 |
| Pregnancies obtained following medically assisted procreation (MAP) . . . . .                                                                                                                        | 237        |
| Pregnancy development following insemination with donor sperm . . . . .                                                                                                                              | 238        |
| Male infertility and pregnancies . . . . .                                                                                                                                                           | 242        |
| Pregnancy care after MAP . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                   | 249        |

PART IV - POSSIBLE TREATMENTS OF ABNORMAL SPERM

|                                                                                          |            |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 16. Possibilities to improve primate spermatogenesis by way of hormonal treatment |            |
| D.G. De Rooij, M.E.A.B. Van Beek (Netherlands) .....                                     | 257        |
| Studies in monkeys .....                                                                 | 259        |
| Studies in the human .....                                                               | 262        |
| Conclusion .....                                                                         | 264        |
| 17. Clinical management of oligo-astheno-terato-zoospermia (OAT) - R. Mieusset,   |            |
| L. Bujan, M. Daudin, A. Mansat, F. Pontonnier (France) .....                             | 269        |
| Potential risk factors for male infertility .....                                        | 269        |
| Therapeutics used in OAT .....                                                           | 277        |
| 18. Idiopathic oligo-astheno-terato-zoospermia : Treatment or medically assisted  |            |
| procreation ? - J.F. Guérin (France) .....                                        | 287 |
| Medical treatment of idiopathic oligo-astheno-terato-zoospermia (OATS) .....             | 288        |
| Intra-uterine insemination in OATS .....                                                 | 289        |
| “Conventional” in vitro fertilization .....                                              | 290        |
| Assisted micro-fertilization .....                                                       | 291        |
| Conclusion .....                                                                         | 294        |
| 19. Effective cumulative pregnancy rate of conventional and advanced methods      |            |
| of treatment of oligo-astheno-terato-zoospermia - F. Comhaire, H. Depypere,       |            |
| S. Gordts, S. Milingos, F. Schoonjans (Belgique, Grèce) .....                     | 299 |
| Effective cumulative pregnancy rate in controls .....                                    | 299        |
| Effective cumulative pregnancy rate during treatment with IUI .....                      | 300        |
| Effective cumulative pregnancy rate among couples treated by conventional                |            |
| IVF .....                                                                                | 300        |
| Cost per successful delivery in different treatment approaches .....                     | 302        |
| Conclusion .....                                                                         | 303        |
| 20. Is there still a role for surgery in the treatment of male infertility ? -    |            |
| H. Navratil, N. Mottet, P. Costa (France) .....                                   | 307 |
| Treatment of varicoceles .....                                                           | 307        |
| Treatment of cryptorchidism .....                                                        | 309        |
| Surgical treatment of excretory azoospermia .....                                        | 309        |
| Surgical treatment of the vas deferens after vasectomy .....                             | 310        |
| Surgery for obstruction of the ejaculatory ducts .....                                   | 311        |
| Epididymal aspiration for in vitro fertilization (IVF) .....                             | 311        |
| Epididymal and testicular aspiration for ICSI .....                                      | 311        |
| Conclusions .....                                                                        | 312        |
| Index .....                                                                       | 315 |