CONTENTS

1990

- |   |     |   |
|---|-----|---|
| A. Brückner-Foit, W. Ehl, D. Munzand B. Trolldenier       | 185 | The size effect of microstructural implications of the weakest link model                                     |
| J. A. Ferreira and C. M. Branco                               | 201 | Fatigue analysis and prediction in fillet welded joints in the low thickness range                            |
| M. J. Couper, A. E. Neesonand J. R. Griffiths             | 213 | Casting defects and the fatigue behaviour of an aluminium casting alloy                                       |
| Li Zhonghua, Han Jiangbuo,Wang Yonglan and Kuang Zhenbang | 229 | Low-cycle fatigue investigations and numerical simulations on dual phase steel with different microstructures |
| Yang Jingjun, Pei Hongxunand Ke Wei                       | 241 | Unstable and stable crack growth: implications for the behaviour of small and long fatigue cracks             |
| Ji-Liang Doong, Jing-Ming Chiand Jiun-Ren Hwang           | 253 | Effect of electron beam welding on fatigue crack growth rate in AISI 4130 steel                               |
| R. A. Ainsworth and P. J. Budden                              | 263 | Crack tip fields under non-steady creep conditions—I. Estimates of the amplitude of the fields                |
| R. A. Ainsworth and P. J. Budden                              | 277 | Crack tip fields under non-steady creep conditions—II. Estimates of associated crack growth                   |
