

CHEMISTRY & INDUSTRY

NUMBER 11, PAGES 403-450

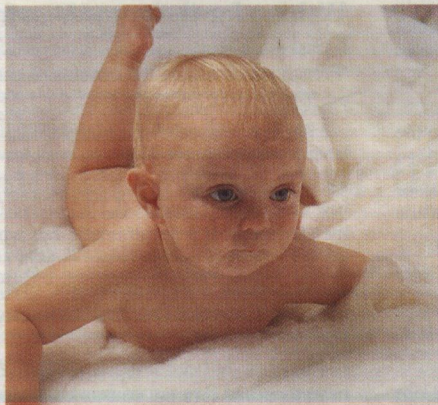

2 JUNE 1997

US waste data sparks war of words, p409

Novartis cottons on to Merck's crop protection business, p410

Do parents want gene maps of their babies? p450

404 LETTERS

405 NEWS

- ◆ Roche buys Boehringer Mannheim for $11bn
- ◆ Critics question Australia's new environmental trust
- ◆ New ways to fight alcoholism
- ◆ President Clinton calls for AIDS vaccine by 2007

412 ALTUS BIOLOGICS

Making enzymes more marketable

Lorraine Walters reviews a company that is trying to convince industry to use enzymes in organic reactions.

414 PATENTS

416 POLYMER CHEMISTRY

Dendrons, dendrimers and dendrigrafts

The search for structural control at a nanoscopic level may well be over: tree-like dendritic polymers can be carefully arranged into a variety of tiny shapes as Donald Tomalia and Roseita Esfand of the Michigan Molecular Institute reveal.

422 PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTRY

The impact of chiral technology on the pharmaceutical industry

Andy Richards and Ray McCague of Chiroscience look at the changing face of drug production.

429 REVIEWS

434 CHEMICAL MARKETS

A reappraisal of chlorine's future

Michael Beal looks at the changing fortunes of the chlorine derivatives market.

BEGLU DO PRBY

CHEMISTRY & INDUSTRY

NUMBER 11, PAGES 403-450

2 JUNE 1997

