

THE THEORY
OF ARCHITECTURE

Concepts, Themes, & Practices

PAUL-ALAN JOHNSON

With a Foreword by STANLEY TIGERMAN

CONTENTS

Foreword ix

Acknowledgements xi

Preface xiii

Introduction 1

Chapter 1 THEORETICAL POSITIONS 25

Overview 25

A. The Reach and Limits of Theory 30

1. The Way of Theory, or Design-Talk
2. Theory and Architectural Practice
3. Theory and Architectural Criticism
4. The Language of Architectural Theory
5. Theory as Architectural Myth Maker

B. Social Aspects of Theory 50

1. The Relevance of Social Concerns
2. The Social Comprehension and Assimilation of Architecture
3. Theory and Environment-Behavior Studies
4. Theory and Individuality: Impact on Society and Architecture
5. Theory and Community: Social Implications for Architecture
6. Theory and the Utopias of Architects

Chapter 2 THE DEFINITION OF ARCHITECTURE

75

Overview 75

A. The Essence of Architecture 80

1. What Is the Essence of Architecture?
2. What Is 'the Nature of' Architecture?
3. Naturalism and Natural Architecture
4. Nature as Exemplar in Architecture

B. The Totality of Architecture 95

1. The Whole as a Long-Standing Construct
2. The Part in Relation to the Whole
3. Why Holism Is only Part of the Game
4. Multiplicity and Unity, the Central Concerns of Architecture

Chapter 3 POWER STRUCTURES AND THE ARCHITECT 111

Overview 111

A. Benefactors of Architecture 116

1. The Architect: Great Gift to Society
2. The Client and the Patron
3. Elitism and Leadership: Rule by Rank Insiders
4. The Beastly Developer and the Architect
5. The Absent Patron: Control of the Center

B. Beneficiaries of Architecture 133

1. Attending to the Public Interest
2. Users, Anonymous Others, and Architectural Conscience
3. Architectural Nobles and Public Acculturation
4. Community, Advocacy, and Citizen Participation

Chapter 4 PROFESSIONAL ATTITUDES

149

Overview 149

A. Investment in Know-How 154

1. Professional Expertise and Specialization
2. Wisdom: The Arbiter of Professional Know-How?
3. Talent: Individual or Communal Possession?
4. The Basis of Architectural Quality and Excellence
5. Feminism: Shifting the Agenda

B. Positions Adopted by Architects 172

1. Roles Architects Play in Society and Practice
2. Vision Quest: Architects and the Future
3. The Architect as Artist and Poet
4. The Architect as Scientist and Technologist
5. Movements: Espoused Theory or Theory-in-Use?

Chapter 5 ETHICS AND ARCHITECTURE 191

Overview 191

A. Ethical Foundations in Architecture 197

1. The Basis of Architectural Ethics
2. Normative Architectural Ethics
3. Ethics and Truth in Architecture
4. Ethical Absolutism or G(o)od Rules
5. Ethical Relativism and Existential 'Chosens'

B. Ethics Applied in Architecture 215

1. What Architectural Obligations Are There?
2. Duty and Prudence
3. Moral Architecture Is in the Making
4. Decorum and the Public Good of Architecture

Chapter 6 ORDERING ARCHITECTURE 231

Overview 231

A. Order by Imposition 233

1. Order, the Imposition of Human Constructs
2. Hierarchy: A Special Case of Order?
3. The Investment in Chaos versus Order
4. Simplicity Is Not Made to Order
5. Complexity Can Be Quite Orderly

B. The Rationale of Method 250

1. Method: A Knee-Jerk of Belated Modernism
2. Method: Telling Tales and Naming Places
3. Model Methods for Model Designers
4. Rational Analysis and Mystifying Synthesis
5. Is There Room for Anarchy?

Chapter 7 AUTHORITY IN ARCHITECTURE 269

Overview 269

A. External Assuagers 272

1. Historicism
2. Progress Is Inevitable, Isn't It?
3. The Force of Continuity and Tradition
4. Context and Contextualism
5. Type, Archetype, and Typology

B. Internal Persuaders 292

1. Determinism
2. Direction and What Is Pointing the Way
3. Faith, the Absurd, the Universal, and Experience
4. Customs and Architectural Habits Die Hard
5. Function and the Formal Demands of Architecture

Chapter 8 GOVERNING CONCEPTS OF ARCHITECTS 309

Overview 309

A. Architectural Belief Systems 311

1. The Illusory Face of Beliefs
2. Principles—Validation and Suspension
3. Dictums as the Denial of Unease
4. The Needs of (Ir)rational Beings
5. Personal Volition as the Maverick

B. How Architects Conceptualize 331

1. Abstraction in Architectural Thought
2. The Central Idea: Informing the Act or Enacting the Form?
3. Meme: The Creative Parasite of Architects
4. Allowing for Change and Contingency

Chapter 9 RELATIONSHIPS IN ARCHITECTURE 347

Overview 347

A. Measuring Architecture 350

1. Measure as the Fundamental Engagement
2. Apropos Anthropos

3. Geometry: Lord of the Invisible
4. Scaling Architectural Mountains
5. Number as an Absolute Quality
6. Proportion and Its Well-Shaped Bases

B. Position and Distance 374

1. Relation and (De)position
2. Connection, Division, and Monstrous Fracture
3. Space and Time and Hocus-Pocus
4. Central Tendencies and Boundary Disputes
5. Place as Genius Loci

Chapter 10 ARCHITECTURE EXPRESSION

395

Overview 395

A. Esthetics in Architecture 399

1. Esthetics: An Architectural Speak-Easy
2. Beauty: The Ken of Designer and Architect
3. Style and Mundane Life
4. Character as 'Evident Particularity'
5. Composition as Artful Arrangement

B. Conventions of Communication 417

1. The Rule of Architectural Convention
2. The Violent Language of Architecture
3. Can Architecture Mean Anything?
4. Metaphor as Necessity and Difficulty
5. Signature: Vanity, Necessity, or Insane Pedantry

References 435

Index 469