AIR TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT

44 Big changes expected under FAA's new organization

ABOUT THE COVER

*Air traffic controller Kathleen Cloitre-Chabert monitors inbound traffic from the tower at Nice Cote d'Azur Airport in France. Controllers will need new technologies to cope with growing air traffic. Changes are afoot in the FAA's new Air Traffic Organization and collaborative long-range planning in the U.S. and at Eurocontrol that will shape the transformation from ATC to the next generation's Air Traffic Management (see p. 44).
