

CHEMISTRY & INDUSTRY

NUMBER 15, PAGES 457-488

6 AUGUST 2001

Ref: PF 120201/05
CHEMISTRY & INDUSTRY
06.08.01 Vol: 2001 No. 15
22101144

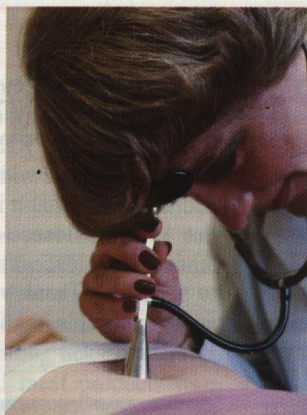

Df: 2996671-

21.08.01

CHEMISTRY & INDUSTRY

NUMBER 15, PAGES 457-488

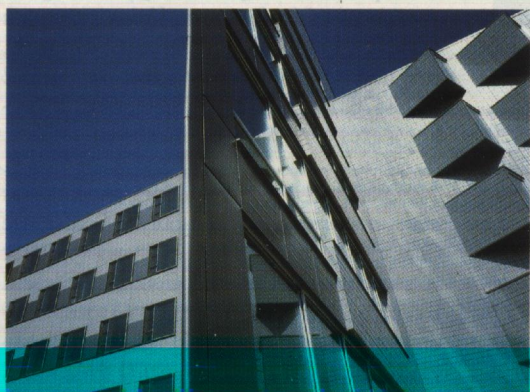

6 AUGUST 2001

Stem cells may provide prenatal brain therapy, p460

Scientists find more free radicals in Antarctica, p463

Finland dominates biotech, p474

458 LETTERS

459 NEWS

- ◆ FMD has unforeseen consequences
- ◆ Protein map completed
- ◆ Climate change figures in doubt
- ◆ Elan posts record results

465 ENVIRONMENT

Taking risks with climate change

Despite differences, governments that have agreed the Kyoto protocol have set the climate for combating global warming. Julia Cheftel reports.

467 AFTERWORDS

466 PATENTS

469 BUSINESS

Economic climate sees major job losses

Simon Robinson reports as companies cut the fat and start tightening their belts.

470 EUROPE & US

Crossing the pond

Europe's heavily regulated and fragmented markets are driving global pharmaceutical companies to the free market and attractive research environment of the US. John Morris explains.

474 FINLAND

Finland emerging faster

The Finns are strong players in the European chemical industry, and are pushing particularly hard the biotech sector. Simon Robinson investigates.