

A First Science Dictionary

D J Lucas
H I James
O J Simpson

This illustrated dictionary contains over 2,000 central definitions from Biology, Physics and Chemistry. It is written for those without a scientific background, at any level, who need to have an understanding of science in their everyday lives. It will be invaluable to school students working towards first examinations in science subjects, to college students needing background scientific knowledge for their courses, to foreign language students following scientific English courses and to adults in jobs requiring some basic scientific knowledge.
